

Question:Indian Constitution and Polity

In Gandhian Socialism:

- 1 State is required
- 2 State is not required
- 3 State is sometimes required and sometimes not required
- 4 State is neither required nor not required

Downloaded From: eLearn Pro (<https://myelearnpro.com/>)

Explanation:

Gandhian Socialism believes there is no need for a state in a socialist system because there would be no class to suppress and no need for an institution based on coercion and therefore regard the state being a remnant of capitalism.

eLearn Pro
Learning Made Easy

 Some Hindi Fonts are not rendered properly.*

Downloaded From: eLearn Pro (<https://myelearnpro.com/>)