

Question:Common Errors

Which part of the following sentence contains a grammatical error? I am thinking (a)/ you were aware (b)/ of the rules and regulations (c)/ before joining. (d)

- 1 I am thinking
- 2 you were aware
- 3 of the rules and regulations
- 4 before joining.
- 5 No error

Downloaded From: eLearn Pro (<https://myelearnpro.com/>)

Explanation:

'think' is a stative verb. It should not be used in present progressive. So I think should be used.

eLearn Pro
Learning Made Easy

 Some Hindi Fonts are not rendered properly.*

Downloaded From: eLearn Pro (<https://myelearnpro.com/>)